Painting and Sculpture Exhibit Dates Are Set

NEW HOPE, May 24—An exhibition of sculpture and painting is planned for Phillips Mill from June 18th through January 17th.

John F. Folinsbee, chairman of the exhibition, will head the jury which will make selections for the show.

Conservative and modern painters are represented on the jury. This is expected to give the exhibit approximately the same "balance" as the show last fall.

Others on the jury in addition to Folinsbee are Harry Leith-Ross, Elizabeth Barry, Charles Coiner, Louis Stone and Jon Gnary. The exhibits will be limited to works of modest size. Oil paintings, water colors, drawing in any medium and sculpture will be considered.

The show will be open daily from one to six and on Sundays from 12 to six.

A number of artists whose work hung in the first show 20 years ago will be represented in the coming exhibit.

In 1929 there were 125 items on the list of exhibitors and paintings. There were paintings by William L. Lathrop, R. S. Bredin, Charles Rosen, M. Elizabeth Price, C. F. Ramsey, John F. Folinsbee, L. R. Ney, Albert Rosenthal, Elizabeth Freedy, Robert Hogue, Fern I. Coppedge, Ethel Wallace, Clarence Johnson, R. A. D. Miller, R. C. Magill, and many others.

In the October exhibit of the same year, Daniel Garber, Adolph Blondheim and Felix Schelling were among those who appeared at Phillips Mill for the first time.

SCHOOL CIRCUS REPLETE WITH "ELEPHANTS," LION TAMER AND HIS CHARGES; "FREAKS" VIE FOR HONORS WITH HARD-RIDIN' "COWBOYS"

The bearded ladies and the fat lady vied for attention with the tattooed lady at Bristol township's circus yesterday afternoon. But the half-a-woman and the Hula girls vowed that today they will receive most of the applause.

The circus is being staged by pupils of three schools in Bristol township, it being presented on the grounds of Maple Shade school yesterday, and to be repeated this afternoon at the community school, Bristol Terrace II, and on Thursday at Croydon school.

Never did a circus have more enthusiastic performers, or more delighted folks in the audience. Parents and neighbors, little brothers and sisters gathered to watch yesterday afternoon, and were liberal in their applause.

There was a ring master, with green top hat, mustache, and whip, and his whistle signalled the announcement for many performances of merit. Various acts were accompanied by recorded music.

During it all the "balloon man" made his way about the grounds, and Mutt and Jeff, the "wild man," the lions and tigers in their cages were the objects of awed admiration. The lion tamer was the first on the program, using a chair and a whip to ward off danger and at the same time direct his fearsome charges—in real life grade pupils, yesterday in their spotted and tailed suits, sat on their red and white stools and tossed balls back and forth as well as any well-trained circus animal would.

During the cow-boy and cow-girl performance, lariat whirled, and guns barked as the cow-boys rode their bucking bronchos (other pupils with reins attached).

Four tight-rope walkers displayed real skill, although the rope was as near to the grass as it could be placed, and they used their "balancing rods" to perfection. The "strongest man this side of the Delaware River" was introduced, and after much straining raised the heavy weight far above his head.

There was a parade of "baby elephants" after the admonition from the ring-master not to feed them, and they were roundly applauded as they made their way

THE LAW IS QUOTED

New Jersey Opposes Contentment of Morrisville and Easton

HARRISBURG, May 24—Pennsylvania's Supreme Court heard argument here yesterday on legality of action by the Borough of Morrisville in refusing to permit the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission to acquire property within the borough for an approach to the proposed Trenton-Morrisville bridge over the Delaware River.

A delegation of Morrisville residents attended the hearing on which accepted the state's high court had accepted original jurisdiction in an equity suit started by Pierce Henderson of Easton, and in which the Morrisville parties intervened.

Willard S. Curtin, Morrisville solicitor, said that a recent state law signed by Gov. James H. Duff over the protests of a citizens' committee is not legal because it changes the term of a compact ap-

KEEP COMPETITION ALIVE

There was a conference in Washington Saturday at which Air Force officers asked their invited guests—representatives of this country's plane building industry—what is to be done about a counter-weapon for the giant B-36 bomber.

The B-36, as anyone knows who followed the Navy-Air Force dog fight that occurred several weeks ago, is supposed to be the king pin of this country's defense strategy. It can fly to Europe and back without refueling, and it does its bombing from an altitude of 40,000 feet.

The Air Force is worried because its offensive—defensive weapons aren't in balance. Its present interceptors, the F-80, the F-84 Thunderjet, and the new F-86 Sabre, perform best at altitudes of 30,000 to 35,000 feet. It is assumed that if this country can develop a bomber that can do its dirty work eight miles up, so can somebody else. The Air Force wants to be prepared for it.

Significantly, there is no mention of the Navy's latest acquisition, a jet fighter called the F2H Banshee. Recently, a group of Banshees was launched from the flight deck of the aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt, and climbed to an altitude of 40,000 feet in seven minutes, a mark which Air Force interceptors, apparently, have not been able to touch.

The assumption is, then, that the Air Force either hasn't heard of this Navy accomplishment, which is hard to believe, or that it has chosen to ignore it. Unfortunately, no contest has been held to determine whether a Banshee can actually get up-stairs and fight a B-36 at the latter's operational altitude.

Such a test should be much more conclusive, and less expensive, than sending plane manufacturers rushing to their drafting boards to design and build a new interceptor. And if it did nothing more, it would tend to keep service competition alive and prevent a lapse into smug complacency.

The home gardener, watching the potato bugs at work, has a good illustration of a tax eater.

It has been finally decided Washington will not loan any money to Spain. There is always an exception which proves the rule.

According to latest information, President Truman will not make a speaking campaign across the nation. At the moment he seems to be rather busy in Washington.

Congress has decided to remain in session all summer, thus dispelling the impression that the taxpayers were cleaned out.

Argue Bridge Case Before Supreme Court

proved by Congress which set up the joint commission.
Pennsylvania State Attorney General T. McKeen Chidsey, however, argued that the joint toll bridge commission is an instrument of the States of New Jersey and Pennsylvania, and such Pennsylvania sovereignty applies to its function on the west side of the river.

Chidsey told the court that the compact provision which prohibits it to acquire land without consent of the municipality involved applies to "surface use" only. He pointed out that the approach through Morrisville to an elevated highway and contended the borough "has no control of the sky."

The attorney general said New Jersey has spent about $3,000,000 to build a freeway to the eastern bank of the river and claimed there is no valid legal obstacle to the commission taking what property it needs in Morrisville to construct the Pennsylvania approach to the proposed bridge.

The 1949 State Legislature passed and Governor Duff signed specific legislation giving the commission the right to acquire the disputed route in Morrisville borough for the elevated highway. In the case before the court today, residents of Easton also protested an approach to the Easton bridge being planned.

E. Dillwyn Darlington of Morrisville headed the protest committee's delegation at the hearing. Other members included Neal Nolan, Herbert Rednor, Gene Kline, Joseph Buckman, Joseph Bush and Mrs. Emily Darlington.

Martha Snyder Wins An Essay Contest

I think Bristol can be beautiful. The citizens can do many things to help.

On entering Bristol a stranger doesn't get a good impression of the town because of the Borough dump and junk yards. The dump and junk yards are on the highway where many people see them. The dump could be fenced in and trees planted around it. The junk yard shouldn't be in the Borough limits. Proper zoning might stop this. The zoning laws which are now being considered for Bristol could very well take care of this, by forbidding them to exist within the Borough limits.

The borough should keep on fixing the streets. On the citizens property where there aren't any pavements, they should be made to put them in. Where there are pavements, they should be kept in good condition.

The citizens of Bristol should keep their homes painted and in good repair. They should keep their yards looking nice too. Although the riverfront is privately owned the people who live along the river shouldn't throw rubbish in it. The streets leading down to the river should have benches at the end of them. Bushes could be planted around them too.

Some of the swamp land that surrounds Bristol should be filled in. Industry could fix up the land around the factories wherever possible. Some examples of nice looking ground around the factories is the land around Fleetwings office, Bancroft Hickey, Manhattan Soap Company, and one that is not in Bristol is Patterson Parchment Paper Company. Other factories could do the same thing.

If many of these would be done, Bristol could be very beautiful.

with swinging gate about the ring, their big ears flapping back and forth.

A large group of performers gave a "paper bag dance" with decorated paper bags concealing their heads. "The Three Blind Mice" really ran after the Farmer's Wife who attempted to cut off their tails with a carving knife, the vocals being by other pupils.

Cartwheels and pyramids were performed well by the "Acrobatic Back Benders." Georgeous George found he had a rival yesterday in "Curlicue," as wrestling matches were put on, "Curlicue" getting his mist of perfume from an insect sprayer. Four other boys put on a midget boxing act; then two girl boxers performed in a most realistic manner.

The "Yo-Yo Clowns" preceded the "happiest, funniest clowns ever," then came the grand parade. The result of much work on the part of pupils and teachers is shown in the variety of costumes for the township circus, to which the public is invited.

Bristol Man Fined $100 And Costs of The Case

Alfred J. Lojeski, of near Carversville, charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, went on trial before Judge Fred W. Davis, of Stroudsburg, who is assisting in criminal court here.

The defendant was arrested April 13th by Officer George Harton, of the local police department, whose car halted in front of Shelly's store on Monument Square.

"How about leaving my car here for two minutes?" Lojeski asked me," Harton testified.

"I said 'no,' and he gave me a smart answer," Harton said.

"I noticed that he was under the influence of liquor and he staggered a little," Harton said.

Harton said the defendant insisted on calling Chief Gowan.

"I noticed the minute he spoke to me that he had been drinking," Harton testified.

The jury is composed of Mary H. Clystone, Furlong; J. Percy Haines, Morrisville; R. D.; Mildred H. Kirgus, New Britain; Karl H. Grunert, Morrisville; Eleanor Miller, Point Pleasant; Mary S. Williams, Quakertown; Harold S. Rufe, Quakertown; John C. Frick, Chalfont; Martha J. Arndt, Perkasee; R. D. 2; Elizabeth Gallagher, Bristol; Jacob H. Steiner, Copersburg; R. D. 1, and Opal E. Shee, Langhorne.

Warns Garage Men To Look Out for Slick One

State Police of the Doylestown sub-station today issued a warning for all garage and automobile accessory agencies to be on the alert for a smooth operator who took at least one victim for $225 recently.

Withholding the name of the victim, State Police report that the salesman recently called at a Bucks county garage and displayed a few batteries and spark plugs which he offered for sale—$5 for the batteries and 10 cents apiece for the spark plugs.

After a high-pressure sales talk by the salesman, the victim was convinced that he had a bargain confronting him and gave the salesman $225 in cash for an order.

The salesman informed the garage operator that he would have to drive him to the Hotel Easton, in Easton, to fill the order, and this the garage owner readily consented to do. That was on May 14.

When the garage man reached the Hotel Easton, the salesman stepped out, saying "I have your goods in just a minute. And he hasn't been seen since.

State Police said this morning that they heard the same swindle was worked in Trenton this week.

Pearl Buck and Ezra Stone Will Headline Broadcast

NEW HOPE, May 24—Two of Pennsylvania's most illustrious farmers—Pearl Buck, world-renowned author, and Ezra Stone, radio's Henry Aldrich—will headline a special "R. F. D. America" broadcast here, on Saturday, which the public is invited to attend, admission free.

The coast-to-coast farm quiz program will originate from the Bucks County Playhouse, which has produced countless theatrical notables. Seating capacity of the Playhouse is 400.

The event, in which Pearl Buck and Ezra Stone will compete in a half-hour network question session with two regular farmers from Bucks County, will be aired at 1:30 p. m., (E.D.S.T.).

"R. F. D. America's" regular emcee, "Bob" Murphy, famous announcer on the Quiz Kids and Breakfast Club programs, will quiz the experts.

The Lineup:
Pearl Buck, of Perkaskie, Pa., who formerly taught in a number of universities in China, is noted as the author of a list of famous books including "The Good Earth" (Pulitzer Prize Winner), "A House Divided," and the current best seller, "Kinfolk."

Ezra Stone, another famous Bucks County farmer, has made his name as Broadway actor, director, lecturer, and writer, and as Henry ("Coming, Mother") Aldrich in "The Aldrich Family." The theatrical side of his life is hardly divorced from his farming. . . his cattle are even named for Shakespearean characters. . . in alphabetical order, according to their ages; Stone directs a play every season, and is a popular lecturer at universities. His Henry Aldrich role, he says, "satisfies the ham in me!"

William C. Clark, of Lahaska, a dirt farmer, is the third member of the "R. F. D. America" board of rural experts. A former city resident, Clark has been farming since 1935, and now has 250 acres on which he raises purebred Guernsey cattle.

The fourth panel contestant, another Bucks County farmer, has not yet been named.

The four will engage in a competitive question-answer session in

Dear Father, we thank Thee for those things which man must have in order to live. We thank Thee for play and its recreating power. Painting and Sculpture Exhibit Dates Are Set

NEW HOPE, May 24—An exhibition of sculpture and painting is planned for Phillips Mill from June 18th through January 17th.

John F. Follinsbee, chairman of the exhibition, will head the jury which will make selections for the show.

Conservative and modern painters are represented on the jury. This is expected to give the exhibit approximately the same "balance" as the show last fall.

Others on the jury in addition to Follinsbee are Harry Leith-Ross, Elizabeth Barry, Charles Colner, Louis Stone and Jon Inagay.

The exhibits will be limited to works of modest size. Oil paintings, water colors, drawing in any medium and sculpture will be considered.

The show will be open daily from one to six and on Sundays from 12 to six.

A number of artists whose work hung in the first show 20 years ago will be represented in the coming exhibit.

In 1929 there were 125 items on the list of exhibitors and paintings. There were paintings by William L. Lathrop, R. S. Bredin, Charles Rosen, M. Elizabeth Price, C. F. Ramsey, John F. Follinsbee, L. R. Ney, Albert Rosenthal, Elizabeth Freedley, Robert Hogue, Fern I. Coppedge, Ethel Wallace, Clarence Johnson, R. A. D. Miller, R. C. Magill, and many others.

In the October exhibit of the same year, Daniel Garber, Adolph Blondheim and Felix Schelling were among those who appeared at Phillips Mill for the first time.

SCHOOL CIRCUS REPLETE WITH "ELEPHANTS," LION TAMER AND HIS CHARGES; "FREAKS" VIE FOR HONORS WITH HARD-RIDIN' "COWBOYS"

The bearded ladies and the fat lady vied for attention with the tattooed lady at Bristol township's circus yesterday afternoon. But the circus was the highlight of the day, and the Hula girls vied for the applause.

The circus is being staged by pupils of three schools in Bristol township, it being presented on the grounds of Maple Shade school yesterday; and to be repeated this afternoon at the community school, Bristol Terrace II, and on Thursday at Croysdon school.

Never did a circus have more enthusiastic performers, or more delighted in the audience. Parents and neighbors, little brothers and sisters gathered to watch yesterday afternoon, and were liberal in their applause.

There was a ring master, with green top hat, mustache, and whip, and his whistle signalled the announcement for many performances of merit. Various acts were accompanied by recorded music.

During it all the "balloon man" made his way about the grounds, and Mutt and Jeff, the "wild man," the lions and tigers in their cages

New Jersey Opposes Contentment of Morrisville and Easton

DINNER TONIGHT TO BEGIN YMCA DRIVE

Workers to Meet and Hear Kenneth Dale Speak In Presbyterian Church

SET THE GOAL AT $7500

A workers dinner, marking the opening of the Bristol YMCA financial drive, will be held in Bristol Presbyterian Church this evening, at 6:30 o'clock. Those present at the dinner will include the Advisory Board of the YMCA, the representatives from the various industrial plants of Bristol who will handle the employee solicitation, and members from the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs, who will make the house to house solicitation.

The guest speaker for the evening will be Kenneth Dale, general secretary of the Chester Young Men's Christian Association. Harold N. Crooker, chairman of the industrial division of the campaign, will preside at the dinner.

It is expected that about 50 workers will attend the dinner, and those attending will receive the materials to launch the campaign in their division. An effort will be made within the next two weeks to give all persons within industry an opportunity to share in the support of the YMCA work in Bristol. It is planned that the "house to house" campaign will be made on Friday, June 3rd.

The goal for this year has been established at $7500 by the Bristol YMCA advisory board, which it is felt is a minimum needed to defray the expenses of renovation of the new YMCA building, and to insure operating costs for the balance of the current year. It is hoped that this goal will be oversubscribed, in order to make available some additional improvements which will be necessary for the fall and winter season. "It is desired that the friends of the YMCA in Bristol will generously support this campaign, and thus insure the continued growth of this Christian service for our youth," said one of the interested workers.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan

(Distributed by International News Service)

Mr. Reuther has opened Ford contract discussions 15 days early. . . I understand he said, "I thought this would be a good time to drop in while you're not busy."

But the Ford workers' health strike makes sense. . . there's no point in a fellow taxing his strength when it's all he has left that hasn't already been taxed.

Of course it's odd that after two weeks in the open air they don't look any healthier.

Anyway with the contract discussions and the health strike running simultaneously increased doses of do, re, mi and vitamins A, B, C can be argued at the same time.

In fact there is some thought that the health strike is more apt to concern Detroit treasurers than Detroit doctors.

Or as the chorus girl remarked when she was asked what the doctor prescribed for her broken heart "His brother . . . the lawyer."

GM Announces 2nd Price Cut in Three Months

DETROIT, Mich., May 24—The second price cut in three months was announced today by General Motors Corp., the cuts ranging from $10 to $40 on all its cars and trucks. The reductions were the same as the company made on Feb. 25, which started a wave of price reductions through most of the major auto producers.

C. E. Wilson, GM president, said the cuts were to "pass on to consumers" the savings resulting from a new wage cut under its cost-of-living wage scale contract with the United Auto Workers (CIO).

Hourly-rated employees will receive a wage cut of one cent an hour for June, July and August. Wage scales of the 273,000 production workers go up and down according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics' cost-of-living index.

Pearl Buck and Ezra Stone Will Headline Broadcast

NEW HOPE, May 24—Two of Pennsylvania's most illustrious farmers—Pearl Buck, world-renowned author, and Ezra Stone, radio's Henry Aldrich—will headline a special "R. F. D. America" broadcast here, on Saturday, which the public is invited to attend, admission free.

The coast-to-coast farm quiz program will originate from the Bucks County Playhouse, which has produced countless theatrical notables. Seating capacity of the Playhouse is 400.

The event, in which Pearl Buck and Ezra Stone will compete in a half-hour network question session with two regular farmers from Bucks County, will be aired at 1:30 p. m., (E.D.S.T.).

"R. F. D. America's" regular emcee, "Bob" Murphy, famous announcer on the Quiz Kids and Breakfast Club programs, will quiz the experts.

The lineup: Pearl Buck, of Perkaskie, Pa., who formerly taught in a number of universities in China, is noted as the author of a list of famous books including "The Good Earth" (Pulitzer Prize Winner), "A House Divided," and the current best seller, "Kinfolk."

Ezra Stone, another famous Bucks County farmer, has made his name as Broadway actor, director, lecturer, and writer, and as Henry ("Coming, Mother") Aldrich in "The Aldrich Family". The theatrical side of his life is hardly divorced from his farming. . . his cattle are even named for Shakespearean characters. . . in alphabetical order, according to their ages; Stone directs a play every season, and is a popular lecturer at universities. His Henry Aldrich role, he says, "satisfies the ham in me!"

William C. Clark, of Lahaska, a dirt farmer, is the third member of the "R. F. D. America" board of rural experts. A former city resident, Clark has been farming since 1935, and now has 250 acres on which he raises purebred Guernsey cattle.

MUTH FANS 15 BATTERS; WINS FOR HIGH SCHOOL

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, May 24 —Thanks to a brilliant pitching performance by Dave Muth, Bristol High moved a step closer to the Lower Bucks County championship by beating Bensalem Township High, 3-1, yesterday afternoon, in a well-played game.

Muth fanned 15 of the Bensalem batters and permitted but two hits. He gave two free tickets to first and would have had a shutout but for a freak play in the fourth inning.

Muth's hill opponent was Bob Marshall. Marshall was touched for seven hits, four of which came in the sixth when Bristol showed over its winning runs. He had eight whiffs to his credit and did not allow a walk.

It was "Eddie" Oliver who scored the freak run which prevented Muth from a shutout. He started the fourth by singling to left. Graziosa hit to Petrizzi who attempted a double play but threw wild to second. When Frank Cantwell walked, the bags were loaded. Muth then tried to pick Oliver off third. Petrizzi dropped the ball and somehow it became hidden underneath the cushion. While Petrizzi was seeking the ball, Oliver dashed for home and made it safely.

Coach Jerry Bloom's team scored its first run in the third when Joe Pindar singled and stole second. After Muth struck out, Marty Braam lined out a single and Pindar came across.

It was the same Marty Braam who started the rally in the sixth with a double. He counted on "Jimmy" Morrell's single. On the throw to the plate, Morrell went to second. "Frankie" Barbetta sliced out a bingle and Morrell dented the plate with the third run for Bristol.

The triumph assured Bristol of at least a tie in the circuit and eliminated the Owls from the running. The Warriors meet Langhorne today and if victorious will clinch the crown.

BRISTOL SUBURBAN SOFTBALL LEAGUE

Schedule for Tonight

FRANKLIN NO. 1 FIRE CO.

(Memorial Field)

JEFFERSON AT TULLYTOWN

Second Ward A. C. won its fifth straight game of the Bristol Suburban Softball League last evening as it downed the Fifth Ward Sporting Club, 7-1, on Memorial Park diamond.

The three-hit pitching of "Chick" Chiclietti featured the contest. Backed by errorless support, Chiclietti had no trouble in subduing the Fifth Warders. Of the three hits made by the losers, one was a home run by "Pete" Mancini which saved the 5th Warders from a shutout. Mancini also had a single to his credit while "Reds" Pica made the other safe hit.

Henry Liberatore pitched for the Fifth Ward aggregation and the winners teed off for nine hits. Four of these hits were bunched in the fourth frame and helped to account for a quartet of the winners' tallies. In this inning, "Nate" Chiclietti hit his first double, he also having another in the sixth inning.

"Jimmy" Sottile and Pica played a nice fielding game for their respective teams.

It was the second loss of the season for Fifth Ward, it having won but one game.

"Charlie" Glassmire aided the winners in their scoring by walloping a home run with one on base in the second inning. "Jack" Haines' bludgeon was also prominent in the triumph as he cracked out a pair of two-baggers and a single in four trips to the plate.

In all, West Bristol had nine safe hits off "Bill" Dunkelberger, while Edgely had eight hits off "Johnny" Ritter. Frank Elker and "Easy" Mama had two hits each for Edgely.

JUNIOR HIGH NINE

LOSES TO COUNCIL ROCK

RICHBORO, May 24 — Bristol Junior High "blew up" in the last inning to lose to Council Rock Junior High, 8-7, yesterday, in a Lower Bucks County High League game.

The boys of Coach "Ben" Watson were leading 7-6 as the final inning began but trouble started when Hayes hit to right field and "Crash" Corrigan let the ball get away from him. This, plus a wild throw to the infield, allowed Hayes to circle the bases with the tying run. Fred Perkins singled and stole second.

Platch drew a walk. Teschner lambasted a pitch of Ireland into deep left field and Perkins scored the winning marker. Teschner's blow would have been at least a triple or home run if he ran the bases.

Loud had three of Bristol's hits while Perkins had two for Council Rock. The Junior Warriors out-hit the winners, 10-8.

VOLTZ NINE KEEPS ITS RECORD CLEAN

The Voltz-Texaco team remained unbeaten in the Bristol Suburban Baseball League by trimming the Hibernians, 7-2, on Memorial Park diamond. It was the third consecutive triumph for Voltz and the third straight loss for the Hibs.

"Lenny" Jones who twirled for the winners exhibited good control, walking but two batters. He was invincible in the pinches as the Hibernians had a total of nine runners stranded. In the final frame, the Corson street club loaded the bags but Jones got Houser on a fly to second. The Voltz pitcher had five strikeouts to his credit.

Stan Stevenson did the pitching for the losing team and was given ragged support. Stan allowed eight hits but his mates had a total of seven errors. He also passed four batters.

The game was a tight affair until the fifth when the Voltz-men registered three times on hits by Barney Ludwig, Capriotti, and Sackville, four errors, and a pass to Dewnap.

It added a pair of runs in the seventh on two miscues, a single by Sackville, and walks to Pappaterra and Ludwig.

The Hibernians' first marker was the result of a triple from the bat of "Walt" Houser and a single by "Johnny" Rodgers while the second run was scored on singles by McDewitt and Cooper and an infield out.
